ZONING BYLAW

The purpose of our Zoning Bylaw is to provide predictability and direction in the development of our City. It divides our City into “areas” of development. Each area is then assigned a zone which permits only certain types of development such as residential, commercial or industrial.

IT also regulates the intensity of development such as single family housing or multi-family apartments and sets maximum or minimum requirements for such things as:

- Parking
- Height
- Size restrictions
- Building Setbacks
- Green Areas
- Fencing
- Visibility
- Grading
- Levelling

The responsibility for compliance with Zoning Bylaw rests with the owner of a property. Failure to comply can have serious and potentially very costly consequences

Inquiries on the Zoning Bylaw should be directed to the Building Department at 306.848.3221

FENCES & SCREENS

While a permit is not required for construction of residential fencing, there are some regulations which must be followed when constructing fences or screening in the City of Weyburn. Where shrubs and hedges are used for fencing or screening, please refer to the City of Weyburn Urban Forestry Bylaw for regulations.

Essentially the height of residential fencing is controlled. Maximum height restrictions vary somewhat depending on location and site zoning. In residential zones the maximum permitted height in a rear yard is 2.4 metres or 8 feet. In a front yard area the maximum permitted height is 0.75 metres or 2.5 feet.

The narrower portion of a lot is considered to be the “front” on corner sites. The “front yard area” is the front 7.6 metres or 25 feet of the lot. The “rear yard area” is all of the lot except the “Front yard area”

Probably the best way to ensure that no problems are encountered with regard to your fence location is to keep it within the boundaries of your property.

Contact the Building Department for information about fencing or screening in zones other than residential. And rememberSafety first! Always dial 411 before you dig to locate underground utility lines.

BUILDING PERMITS

The Uniform Building & Accessibility Act of the Province of Saskatchewan is enforced by the City of Weyburn. It adopts a slightly modified version of the National Building Code and establishes minimum structural requirements for new construction. In addition it sets minimum & maximum requirements relating to washrooms in commercial outlets, heating systems and electrical systems, as well as fire and life safety standards in new construction.

Also included is the requirement for the provision of barrier free accessibility (commonly known as wheelchair accessibility) to new public buildings and, in certain situations, when renovations or additions are carried out in residential apartments or buildings used by the public. Building permits are issued as part of the review and approval process. Permits are required for all new construction, additions, decks, garden sheds, satellite dishes, renovation projects and structural changes

Contact the Building Department at 306.848.3221.

THE WEED CONTROL ACT

The City of Weyburn, as an Urban Municipality, acknowledges the Government of Saskatchewan's Noxious Weeds Act 1984, commonly referred to as 'The Weed Control Act'.

Hoary Cress

This is a Provincial law to control noxious weeds in residential neighbourhoods and other urban areas, including private and public properties. The City of Weyburn is responsible for administering the control and prevention of any plant species that become established within the boundaries of City of Weyburn and has been declared noxious under "The Noxious Weeds Act, 1984". Briefly, this Act specifies that the control of weeds is the property owner's responsibility and, where there is a problem, the City has the authority to destroy the weeds and collect the cost from the property owner.

The prohibited noxious weeds include Field Bindweed, Leafy Spurge, Bladder Campion, Russian Knapweed, Hoary Cress, and Toadflax. Other noxious weeds that are less difficult to control but a concern when not controlled include Stinkweed, Green Foxtail, Kochia, Dandelions, Sow Thistle, Foxtail Barley, Purple Loose Strife, Russian Thistle, and Barnyard and Couch Grass in lawns.

Presently, the City of Weyburn enforces the Act on a complaint basis and through City-wide surveillance by the Bylaw Enforcement Officer. After receiving a complaint, the Bylaw Enforcement Officer will investigate and respond by serving an order in accordance with The Noxious Weeds Act, which gives specific directions as to what procedures to follow and a reasonable time frame to respond. Failure of the property owner to take corrective measures within the time given will result in the City's Parks Department staff disposing of the specified noxious weeds at the property owner's expense.

Purple Loosestrife

This is not a one way street. If you are aware of weed problems on a City property, please let us know so that we can take control measures.

Green Foxtail

URBAN FORESTRY BYLAW

The Urban Forestry Bylaw was implemented in 1988 to regulate the planting, maintenance & removal of shade and ornamental trees on public lands and to establish, regulate, & sustain an effective, orderly and healthy Urban Forestry Program.

The Urban Forestry Program is designed to enhance the appearance of the City and promote the welfare of its residents by the establishment and implementation of an Urban Forestry Master Plan, consisting of a master tree plan, a master turf and landscape plan, and a specification/policy manual.

The City of Weyburn acknowledges the fact that trees are very important and represent a valuable resource and economic asset. Trees that grow along the streets, in the parks, cemeteries, school grounds, other public places, and privately owned land, all combine to make up the Urban Forest.

What is the definition of a ‘boulevard’? A boulevard is a vegetation strip between a sidewalk and a curb or residential property line. Boulevards are City property and so are the trees growing on them. The trees are maintained by the City’s Parks Department. The width of boulevards differs from street to street.

Sight triangle Clearance Restrictions are necessary on all corner lots in residential and commercial zones. A fence, hedge, shrub, or any other plant structure shall not be erected or permitted to grow to a height greater than 0.75m (30”) above grade of the streets that abuts the lot within the triangular area bounded by the street lines, the line joining points on the street lines a distance of 7.6, (25’) from their point of intersection.

Note: Various combinations of basic boulevard designs may exist. If in doubt, please check with the Parks Department at 306.848.3290.

Hedges or shrubs are required to be contained on the owner’s property- not overhanging sidewalks or neighbour’s driveways. This allows pedestrians to utilize walkways and vehicles to use driveways without restrictions. Shrubs and hedges shall be kept trimmed up to 30cm from the edge of the sidewalk. New hedges shall be planted not closer than 50 cm from a sidewalk.

Who’s Responsible for Boulevard Trees? Trees on City boulevards are maintained and controlled by the City. The City is responsible for the care and maintenance of all boulevard trees. You are not allowed to prune or remove City trees. If you do so, you may be liable to a fine/and or damages for the cost of repairing or replacing the tree. WEYBURN COAT OF ARMS (Since 1967)

The blue shield of our Coats of Arms represents the beautiful blue sky of the prairies and the portion of the Souris River through Weyburn. Our green fields are depicted by the green chevron, and recognition is given to the oil industry with the insertion of the black bars. The backbone of the community is recognized by the gold wheat head. Transportation, industrial development and the railway, to which Weyburn owes its beginning, are symbolized by the gold cogged wheel. Our unique water tower is given a place of honour as it depicts the early structures in our community.

Our pioneering forefathers; whether they were breaking sod, drilling for oil, or constructing road and rail; forged ahead with a vision, applying their natural instincts to overcome the many challenges confronting them beneath the open, blue skies of the prairies. The achievements of our pioneers are reflected in the success our community enjoys today.

We enter into a new era; world advancement in communication, transportation, and production technology forces us to compete in a global society. As our coat of arms depicts, we must now be the pioneers of today, with the vision and the commitment to achieve progress and prosperity for the future.
